BRITISH REPLY
ON BLACKLIST
IS DUE SOON

Expected to Ignore Arguments of America—Force Thought to be This Country's Only Remedy.

ANOTHER DEMAND TO BE MADE ON LONDON

Unless Action is Taken Every British Ship Will be in Danger of Being Held Up in U. S. Ports.

International News Service: WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—State department officials today began assembling material for another peremptory demand on Great Britain to raise the boycott on American business firms, following receipt of advance information on the forthcoming British answer. Powers of retaliation congress placed in the president's hands may be brought to work very soon.

Sec'y of State Lansing has been officially informed that the British reply to the blacklist note will be received shortly and that the British government will practically ignore the arguments of America and continued good feeling between the nations cannot exist if there is to be an arbitrary rule enforced against American business firms.

Officials are closely studying plans for retaliation against England since they have learned they can expect no relief except that obtained by force, employed in a commercial way.

Reply Due Next Week.

The British reply to Acting Sec'y of State Polk's note written weeks ago, is expected here not later than the middle of next week. Officials have been informed that the British government will practically ignore the arguments of America and continued good feeling between the nations cannot exist if there is to be an arbitrary rule enforced against American business firms.

Shortly after receipt of the British reply it will be answered by a note in which the British government will officially be informed of the powers of retaliation recently placed by congress in the president's hands. Unless Great Britain answers satisfactorily much quicker than it took for her to agree on an unsatisfactory reply to the first boycott note, every British ship will be in danger of being held up in American harbors and clearances refused.

Auto Tail Light
Must be on a Separate Circuit

Indiana statute laws declare that the tail light of an automobile must be on a separate circuit and must be independent of all other lights.

What is the poor, harassed auto owner going to do when the tail light of his machine is wired with the auxiliary lamps? This is the question that arose in the city court Saturday morning.

J. D. J. Farneman, 2825 S. Michigan st., ignorant of the law was the victim. A makeshift switch, part of the lamp itself, threw off the light in the rear and he was arrested for violation of the city ordinance. Special Judge Louis W. Hammond, who occupied the bench at the morning's session fined the defendant, who pleaded guilty, $1 and costs but suspended the sentence.

JOINT PATROL OF LINE SUGGESTEDAmerican Commission Takes
Up Question of Withdrawing Troops.

International News Service: NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 9.—Consideration of the several plans for joint protection of the border to prevent future incursions from the Mexican side today occupied the American commission here. Members of the Mexican commission, with the exception of Senor Bonillas, were in New York. Mr. Mott of the American commission, was absent also in New York, on private business.

The plans suggested by the Mexican commission for guarding the international boundary are these:

1—Joint patrol by a specified number of American and Mexican troops, with an international agreement that either body be permitted to follow a "hot trail" in pursuit of bandits over the border.

2—A joint patrol, with the neutralization of a strip 20 miles wide on each side of the border; all citizens of both countries to be disarmed within the limits of the neutral strip.

3—A sufficient guarantee by the Carranza government that all bandits will be driven from the territory contiguous to the border, with a reserve of American troops at a distance from the border for additional security.

The present plan of the American commissioners, it became known today, is to consider together the question of the withdrawal of American troops and means for protection of the border. The latter question, which Gen. Carranza wishes to be decided first, is so complicated by the reported presence of Villa in Chihuahua and so bound up in the border question that the American commissioners deem it inadvisable to recommend the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico before an arrangement is agreed upon for such protection of the border that the future presence of American forces will be unnecessary.

It is understood here that one or both of these questions will be settled before Wednesday of next week and submitted to Washington and Mexico City for ratification.

LABOR UNIONS
MAY AID NEW YORK STRIKERS

Committee Appointed Has Full Power to Call a General Sympathetic Strike in All Trades.

STRIKE BREAKERS TO OPERATE CARS TODAY

Loyal Employees Expected to Quit When Non-union Men Start Work—Trouble is Feared.

International News Service: NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Central Federated union, representing approximately 750,000 men and women workers today authorized the appointment of a committee with full power to call a general sympathetic strike in all trades if such action is deemed necessary to help the striking traction employees gain recognition of their union in the struggle with the Interborough Rapid Transit and New York Railways Co. This action was taken after an all-night session at the Labor temple during which the traction companies were assailed for their threat to destroy the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees.

This threat of a sympathetic strike by the Central Federated union and the announcement by the New York Railways Co. that strike-breakers would be used on its surface lines made this—the third day of the strike—a crucial period in the struggle. Up to today the company has run only a reduced number of cars, using employees who had remained loyal, but when strike-breakers begin operations it is expected that many of those hitherto loyal will walk out and that marked disorder will follow.

City officials began the day with their hopes of a settlement of the struggle steadily lessening. The growing pessimism was reflected in Mayor Mitchell's statement that he was "determined that order should be maintained in the city, the safety of the travelling public insured and protection given to life and property."

One o'clock this afternoon is the set time for the expiration of the traction officials' ultimatum ordering the return of the striking employees. Within a short time after that hour the companies expect to know how many strike-breakers will have to be held for duty on the elevated and subway lines. The remainder, understood to number about 4,500, will be turned over to the New York Railways Co. for service on the surface lines.

This company has announced its purpose of giving a 2-hour service hereafter. Hitherto it has run into the harbor at 6 o'clock, or as near that hour as possible, and kept them there until 6 a. m. This has prevented any night rioting, but when service is attempted after dark the city officials fear an outbreak of disorder.

The strikers received help from a new source today. Frest Johnson F. Riley of the district council of the International Longshoremen's association announced that he had ordered members of the Tidewater Boatmen's union not to handle coal barges loaded with fuel for the power plants of the Interborough Co.

SALOON MAN FINED

Found Guilty of Obstructing View on Last Sunday.

Joseph Nagy, a saloon keeper at 2402 W. Division st., Saturday in city court pleaded guilty to obstructing part of the interior of his saloon Sunday morning last. The defendant maintained that he was not responsible owing to his absence on a fishing trip.

Sgt. Barnhart and Motorcycle Cop Wessolek testified that Mrs. Nagy told them that the defendant was asleep. The court found Nagy responsible for the condition of his place of business and set the fine at $10 and costs.

The case against Susani Sobczok, who is charged with assault and battery, was continued Saturday for the eighth time until Sept. 12. Peter Katona, charged with child desertion, was commanded to appear in court Sept. 11.

Of Big Loan is Rejected by China

International News Service: WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Yuan Huang and the Chinese ministry have decided to reject the Japanese tender of a $50,000,000 loan, the state department was advised today in cablegrams from Peking. The Chinese republic, it was stated, will renew negotiations with American financiers for an amount approximating that figure.

The Chinese foreign minister, it was stated, had become convinced that the Japanese proposition was held about with embarrassing conditions, chief among them being the intention of Japanese to exercise a degree of supervision in the expenditures when the loan would make possible.

PRICES STILL HIGH

Potatoes Quoted at $2 a Bushel on City Market Saturday.

Settlement of the threatened railroad strike which sent the prices of several commodities sky-high seems to have had little effect on the return to normal. On the city market Saturday morning potatoes were still quoted at $2 a bushel. Poor crops are blamed for the present price.

Spring chickens bring 23c, peaches 25c a basket, although the better grade bring $1.00. Eggs continue at 22c, grapes at 20c a basket, cabbage at 3c per pound and corn at 15 and 18c.

Wagons, carts, rigs and automobiles to the number of 126 drew up on the Colfax bridge early Saturday morning and were soon surrounded by eager throngs who, anticipating a rush, began to buy early.

MURDERED MAN
FEARED FOR LIFE

Sought Permission to Carry Gun—Rock Hurlled Through Window.

International News Service: NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—New evidence tending to show that Dwight Dilworth, the lawyer shot and killed in Van Cortlandt park last Sunday while motoring with a woman, had realized his life was in danger two years ago was learned today.

At that time when Dilworth and his family were residing in River-side drive he sought permission to carry a revolver. It was learned today from an authoritative source. This was a few days after a rock had been hurled through the bath room window of his apartment one night when Mrs. Dilworth was in the room.

Did the person who threw that rock seek to injure Dilworth and not his wife? Why did Dilworth seek a permit to carry a gun? These are questions puzzling the police today. They believe this new evidence indicates that the murder last Sunday was the termination of a plot originating at least two years ago.

Mrs. Dilworth, widow of the murdered man, now in Fort Scott, Kas., has sent word to the police today that she will leave immediately for this city to assist in apprehending the assassin.
